

Guest Speaker
Fundamentals of Environmental Health, MPH 6010
Summer 2021

*LT Adam Mannarino, MPH, MSEH, REHS, CSP, CIH
Job Title: Safety and Occupational Health Manager
Commissioned Corps, USPHS*

What: Guest Speaker. Please join in and hear LT Adam Mannarino discuss his environmental public health experiences and insight in the USPHS since graduating from ECU. Adam will also be answering questions about the USPHS and how to apply.

Who: Lieutenant (LT) Adam Mannarino, Commissioned Corps of the United States Public Health Service (USPHS) and ECU MPH/MSEH alumni.

When: Wednesday, June 30th 6:30 pm

Where: MS Teams <https://teams.microsoft.com/>

Topic: Environmental Health in the USPHS: Lessons from the Field:

Over the past 8 years, Lt. Mannarino has gained a wealth of experience, providing direct, comprehensive environmental health and occupational health and safety technical assistance to American Indians and Alaska Natives throughout the southwestern United States and in native villages in Alaska. In his current assignment, LT Mannarino oversees and manages a comprehensive nationwide construction safety program for the National Park Service historic preservation activities.

LT Mannarino holds a bachelor's degree from Xavier University, a Master of Public Health (Epidemiology concentration), and a Master of Science in Environmental Health, both from East Carolina University. LT Mannarino is a Registered Environmental Health Specialist (REHS) credentialed by the National Environmental Health Association (NEHA), a Certified Safety Professional (CSP) through the Board of Certified Safety Professionals (BCSP) and a Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) through the American Board of Industrial Hygiene (ABIH).

Questions: Maurica Bynum (DrPH student), bynumm20@students.ecu.edu or Dr. Greg Kearney, KearneyG@ecu.edu