Design Concept:

There is an annual bike race that is an annual event in the coastal south. Cycle North Carolina has had hosted the race for the last 15 years in Washington, North Carolina. This is a 3-day excursion featuring coastal scenery, flat roads, low traffic counts and the wind at your back. This coastal excursion is influenced in the research center design based on the flow of the space (which mimics the bicycle route) and the overall bicycle accents throughout the space.

Architecture and Furniture Finishes:

The design of the building is a green and sustainable design. Therefore, all the materials, furniture etc. will be complying with principles of social, economic, and ecological sustainability. By doing this, we are using the reclaimed wood and highlighting the value of the original history of the building while giving it a modern flare with more contemporary furnishings. Some of the furniture is also has a wavy-like which mimics the fluid movement of riding a bike and the direction and flow of the space is similar to that of a bicycle path because it's directionally straight forward.
