Inspiration Photos

The concept of the design is “leave it better than you found it”. This concept will revolve around things that will inspire people coming into the area. The space is meant to inspire new ideas into the world by displaying what others have done in their field from the past till now. The space is mixing the old with the present in new ways that work cohesively to inspire others to create something new and to leave an impact in field they’re entering in. Nature is represented in many ways throughout the space to show that it inspires new ideas and forms. The objects that are in the space are meant to represent what is possible and what anyone can achieve with just a simple idea. With any field, the objects in the space are intended to influence people to think outside of the box to achieve new ideas.
