Return to Instincts

Luray Caverns in Virginia provides inspiration for this office space. Like the structure of a cave, vast expanses of space incorporate enclosures providing a sense of safety, security and focus. Work and leisure are incorporated into one space much like how early humanity lived.

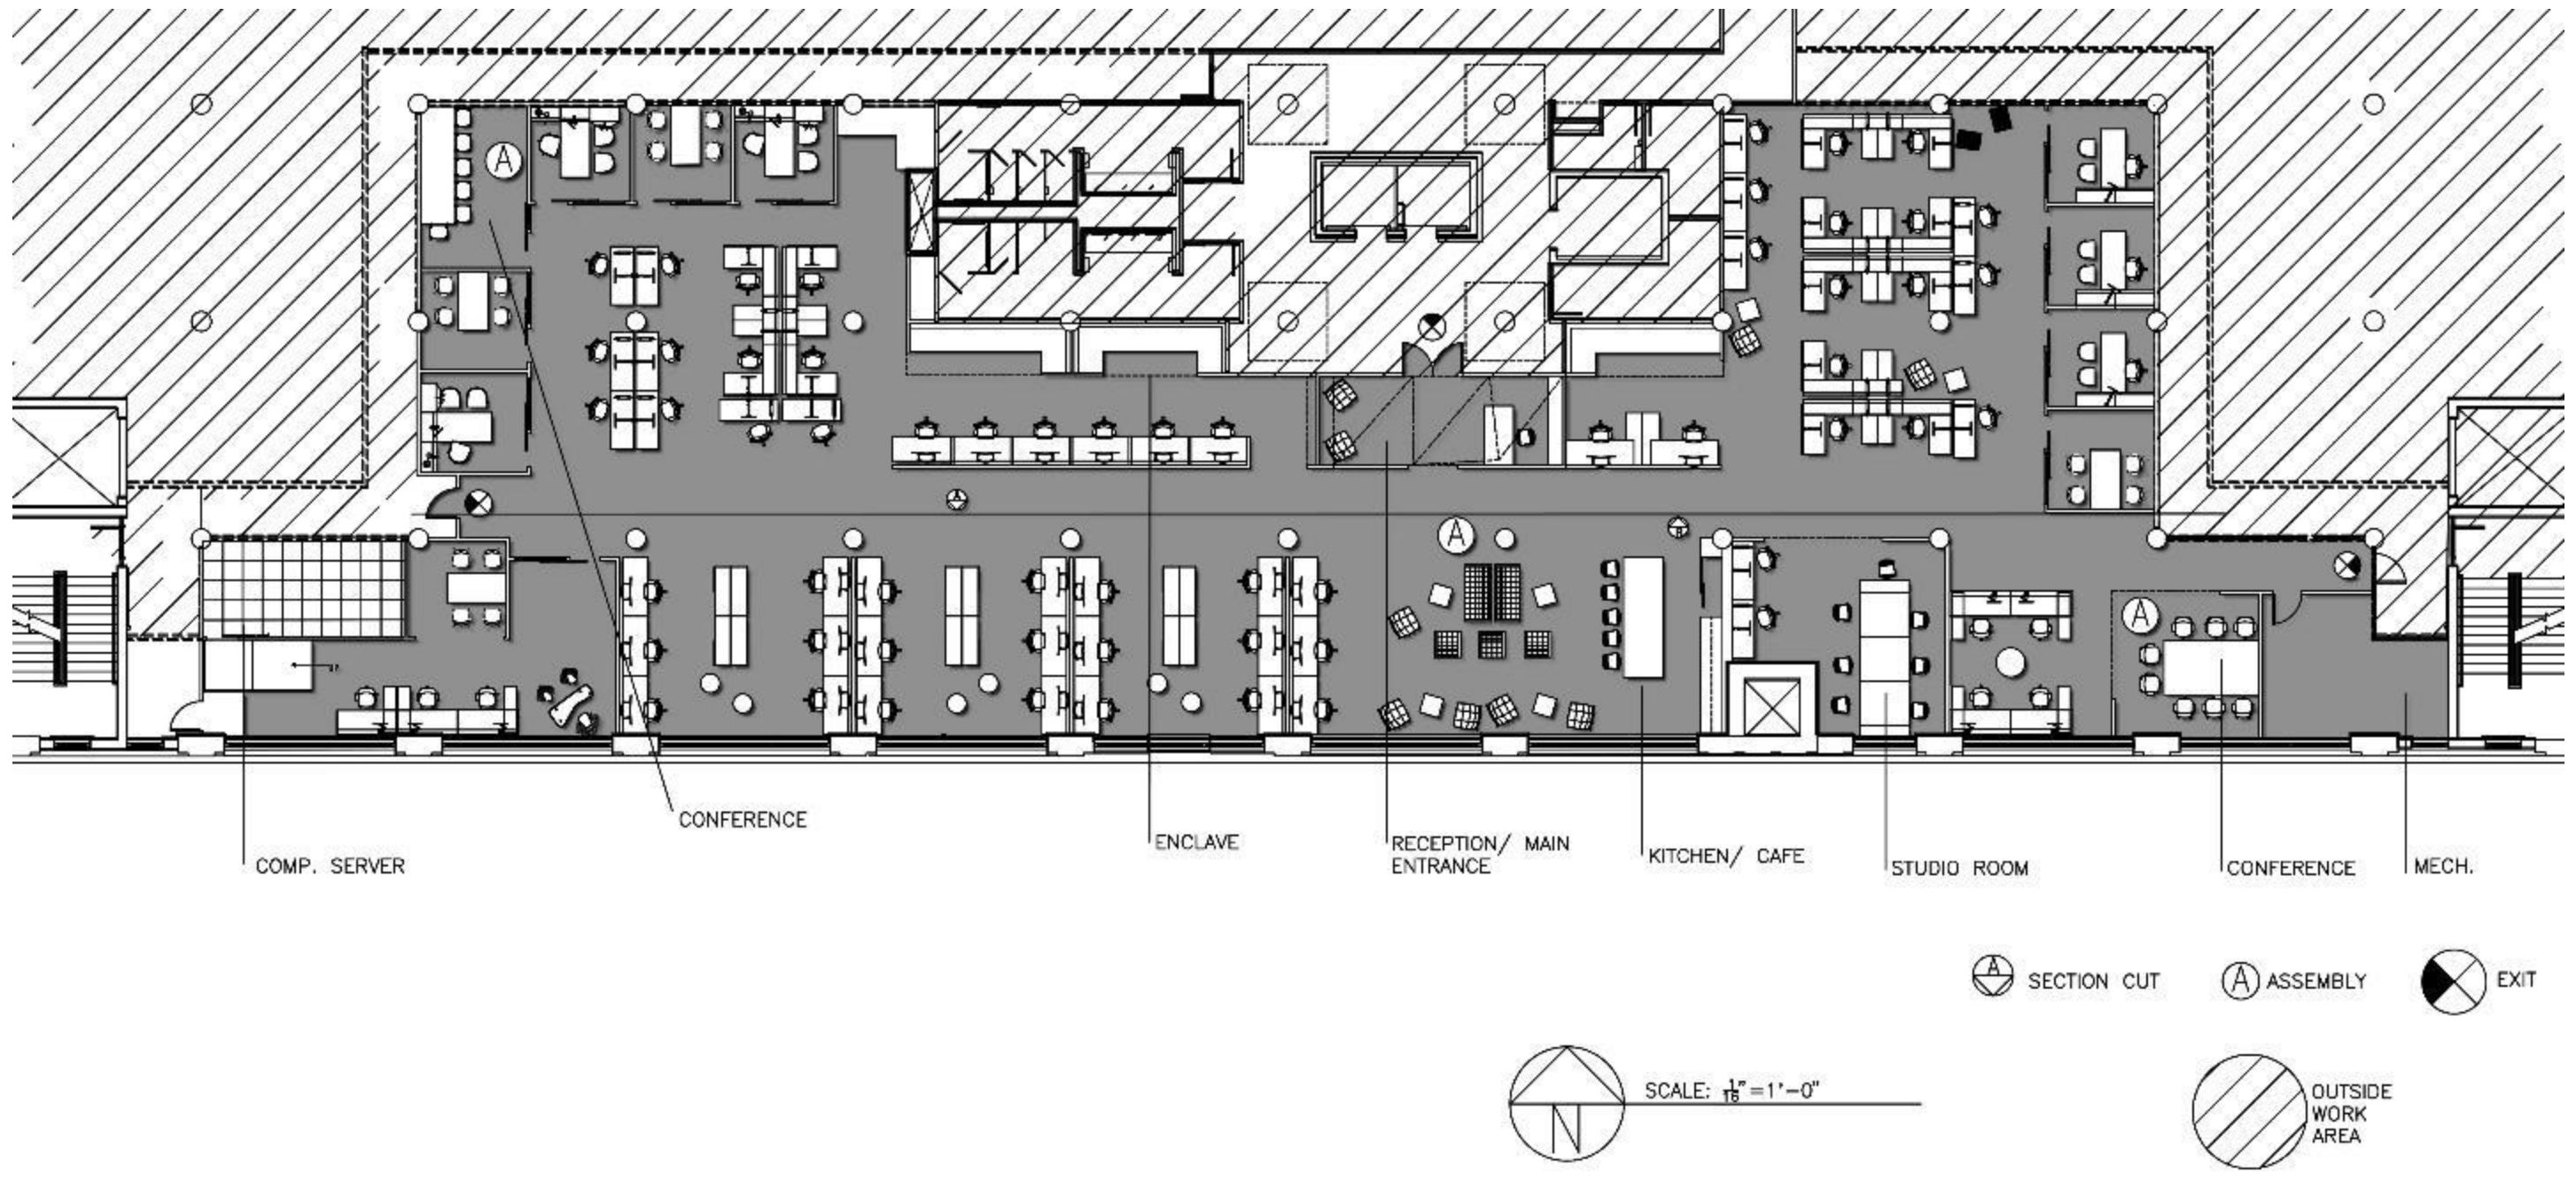

- Design will incorporate a variety of textures unified by clean minimalist lines and a neutral color pallet with accents of color and graphics.
- Office space planning encourages interaction between all members of the work team.

Statement of Sustainability

- Minimal alterations to existing structure captures embodied energy
- Re-purposed hardwood surfaces + steel structures
- Large shutters control sunlight to reduce dependence on central HVAC systems and artificial light
- LED + automatic dimming and shut-off lighting
- Utilization of LEED certified furnishings, lighting and finishes
