LIVING ROOM PERSPECTIVE

Pat and Fran are the best parents I could ask for. With everything I have been through, they have stuck with me through it all and I couldn't be more grateful. I have been an active person my whole life. I ran cross country all through high school and college. Once I graduated, I continued to go to the gym 5 times a week with a personal trainer. I love spending my free time outdoors and I always do my workouts outside if the weather is nice. I have always loved the feeling I get after a good workout. It was my passion to always be the best person I could be, and to me that was keeping myself in the best shape possible. I never took for granted being able to be active, but I also never imagined that one day it would be taken from me.

KITCHEN PERSPECTIVE

I served sometime in the Afghanistan war, where I lost both of my legs. I went through a deep depression after this happened because I felt as if my life was taken from me. I had to move in with my parents which I did not want to do. I have always been such an independent person so this transition was very hard for me. The house we live in now doesn't fit my needs and I constantly have to ask my parents for help.

MASTER BED/BATH PERSPECTIVE

We are all from Pittsburg; Pat is a decorative arts professor and 5 years away from retirement. Fran just recently retired from being a molecular physics professor. They decided that they wanted to move into a senior living condo in Greenville, NC. I was unsure about the move, but once I got a glimpse of the condo I knew it was the perfect place for us. It is a very spacious floorplan, which is good for me because I am always in a wheelchair. There is an excessive amount of natural lighting designed into this space. I love that because I enjoy the outdoors so much and I feel as if it is being brought inside to me.

GUEST BED/BATH PERSPECTIVE

There is also an outdoor patio where I spend a lot of my time enjoying the outdoors as much as possible. All of the cabinetry and furniture is designed to fit my needs. I love being able to help myself onto the couch, pull right up to the dining room table, get on and off the toilet and get comfortably into my bed. Moving into this home has in a way brought me back to life. It has given me my independence back, which I thought was long gone. My depression has decreased tremendously and I couldn't be more thankful for this home.

HISTORICAL PRECEDENT

Historical precedent- reinvention of a previous style; using examples of a style from the past and changing it up to be more modern for your new design.

Mid-Century Modern

The Mid-Century Modern style was very popular in the mid-20th century.

- Excessive use of natural lighting
- Furniture fabrics and colors that stand out from the rest of the room
- Open design concept
- 1930-1970
- Use of plastics and woods
