Retail Research

- A successful layout is essential in gaining customers.
- The entrance is key to first impressions
- The entrance is where one gets his feel for the environment: store, coordination, organization
- The right wall when entering, should entice the customers with high demand and seasonal items
- As customers walk through, use colors and textures to grab one's attention
- Encourage loitering with signage to force impulse buying, while
- Leaving space for navigating
- Have your register on the left side, front of the store, while adding
- And place seasonal products nearby to encourage impulse buys, but change it frequently
- Display necessities: slat wall, grid wall, shelves, tables, racks, showcases
