BENEFITS

Interns receive a $1,000 scholarship, one year AWSM membership and complimentary registration and lodging at AWSM's annual convention.

"Not only did I have an internship through AWSM while in college, but I met my future boss at a convention a few years later after staying involved. AWSM gives journalists direction, provides invaluable networking opportunities and a sense of community among women in our business."

LAKEN LITMAN

USA TODAY Sports/AWSM internship coordinator

About our scholarships/internships

Since 1990, AWSM has placed more than 140 female college students interested in sports media careers in paid summer internships working in broadcast production, broadcast reporting, print/digital reporting, magazine writing and public relations. Our 2015 interns worked at ESPN, CNN, MLB.com, Sports Illustrated, PRO Sports Communications and the Colorado Springs Gazette. Internship hosts are subject to change each year.
